[^4]: The high FWHM is due to the relatively low resolution of the mosaic images used to detect high-redshift radio galaxies. [^5]: The core-subtracted, high-resolution images used for our analysis show that there is a faint lensed source to the North of the lensed arc (Fig. \[fig:radio-images\], right). [^6]: $z_{\rm mem}=2.80 (1.31\Omega_\Lambda-0.69\Omega_{\rm M})^{ -1/2}$ is the expansion factor of the universe at the galaxy's redshift. [^7]: See footnote 1. [^8]: See footnote 4. [^9]: See also Table \[tab:z3\], where the Lyα flux (F$_{\rm Ly\alpha}$) and equivalent width (EW) values were computed. East Africa should be at the heart of the revolution in digital services that underpins Africa's future growth, says Mungai Hanga, Permanent Secretary at the Ministry of Economic Planning and Development (Mepid). In his address to the first-ever World Bank Group Digital Summit in Nairobi, Hanga said digital policy makers "must enable and empower" consumers to access digital services in a cost-effective manner, given the constrained budget situation in the country. "Kenya's limited budget levels do not allow big investments in infrastructure, and in many cases, policy makers are unclear as to how best to allocate these constrained resources," he said. Hanga also said digital infrastructure and services are key enablers of productivity gains. This can be achieved through emerging technologies, such as mobile networks, the Internet, and broadband connectivity. "The digital economy and inclusion is an enabler to our digitisation plans. We want our country to become more connected to other countries as we go forward with our socio-
